

Akzo Nobel Service GmbH in Cologne is looking for you as a

Head of Integrated Communications DACH (f/m)

Your Responsibilities:

- You will be a key member of the European Communications Leadership team in building a world-class communications function and establish a business-partner position within the organization.
- Lead communications strategy development and execution for AkzoNobel and its businesses
- Provide communications counsel and Public Affairs support to the business units and industrial sites
- Deliver locally relevant tactics for corporate, brand and product communications activities, Internal Engagement and Public Affairs;
- Strengthen or protect the reputation and the brand in every significant decision and action in DACH
- Drive Internal Communication and Engagement to build a single AkzoNobel culture in the company
- Build an excellent communications team in DACH developed shared resources (content and production) of the communications function of AkzoNobel
- Provide leadership and direction to the global communications function

Your Qualifications:

- Master degree in communications, journalism, marketing, business or similar studies is required
- Experience in building and developing high-performance communications teams, developing skills and driving engagement across the team
- Work experience in multinational environment with strong personal communication skills
- Experience in all aspects of brand management, internal engagement and integrated communications
- Experience with leading internal transformation and change programs
- Strong relationship development / collaboration skills
- Business fluent in German and English

We are looking forward to receiving your application including your salary expectations and your earliest availability date via this link.

If you have additional questions please contact
Golz Naz Mokhtarani, Tel.: +49 221 9 95 85 167

Where your ideas go far
www.akzonobel.de/karriere